SHIP STOPS ON ATLANTIC

Operation Performed on a Lady In Midocean.

SUCCESS ATTENDED SAME.

Mrs. Trebell, en Route on the Cedric From England to New York, Taken Suddenly Ill, and Prompt Use of the Knife Imperative.

New York, Aug. 8.—While in mid-ocean the Cedric of the White Star line was stopped for nearly three hours so that a surgical operation could be performed on Mrs. Thomas Trebell of New York, a cabin passenger. Mrs. Trebell, who was returning with her husband from a visit to friends in England, was taken suddenly ill and Dr. Prior called in consultation Dr. W. S. Halstead, of Johns Hopkins university, a prominent surgeon. Both decided that an operation was necessary to save the woman's life. Captain C. A. Bartlett, commander of the Cedric, was informed that the least possible motion of the ship was required in the operating room and a notice was posted telling the passengers that the ship would be stopped for a time.

The two surgeons, with the hospital stewards and nurses on the ship, were through with their work after an hour's delay, but the condition of the patient was so critical that the ship was not sent ahead at her normal speed for two hours more.

On her arrival Mrs. Trebell was taken to the New York hospital and Dr. Prior believes she is on the road to permanent convalescence unless new complications set in.

FOREIGNERS FIGHT POLICE.

Effort Made to Lynch Man Accused of a Shameful Crime.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—A frenzied mob of foreigners fought a detail of police in an effort to lynch Joseph Green, alias Joseph Fineststein, for an attack on Nellie Wiener, a three year old girl. Mrs. Wiener, mother of the child, incited the mob and led them to a barber shop where Green had taken refuge. The police were obliged to force on the door of the shop. Green had an open razor and refused to submit to arrest. One policeman felled him with a club and he was dragged to a patrol wagon, where the crowd fought hard to get hold of him, but the prisoner was finally landed in a police station.

Kansas Man Hopeful.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Robert E. Coughlin, an attorney of Paola, Kan., was a Fairview caller. He told Mr. Bryan that the prospects for Democratic success in the Sunflower state grew brighter each day and expressed the belief that Kansas would be found in the Democratic column on election day, but suggested that some time he devoted to stumping the state.

Hon. Eugene Chafin, of Chicago, Prohibition candidate for president, was another caller. The two nominees spent some time in conversation. On leaving the Bryan home Mr. Chafin declared his visit was simply one of courtesy.

Housewife Strike Favored.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Women were advised by Mrs. Florence Richards of Ohio in an address at the Lincoln Temperance chautauqua at Austin to go on a strike until they are permitted to vote.

"If we refuse to do the housework and take care of the children," said Mrs. Richards, "we would be led to the polling places on her hubbles' arms before a month. Then the saloon doors will cease to swing. No man wants to cook and o house work," said the speaker, "and a universal strike will bring them to time."

Taft Attends Horse Show.

White Sulphur Springs, Aug. 8.—Hon. W. H. Taft attended the horse show.

Had Talk With Scott.

White Sulphur Springs, Aug. 8.—Senator Scott and W. H. Taft had an extended talk.

ALLISON INTERRED.

During the Funeral Service No Business Transacted.

Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 8.—As he lived, so Senator Allison was buried, in a manner devoid of all ostentation. Services were held at the residence of the dead statesman, and while not of a private character, the limited accommodations of the home permitted only to be present distinguished visitors and the most intimate friends of the late senator. The services were simple. Rev. Bergen of the Westminster Presbyterian church officiated. Interment was private.

During the time of the funeral ceremony not a wheel turned throughout the city and every business house closed its doors. Flags were hung at half mast from public buildings and hundreds of homes and business houses were trimmed with crepe.

There was many distinguished visitors in attendance at the funeral. Besides the members of the congressional committee named by Vice President Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon there was a large delegation from Des Moines, consisting of Governor Cummins and other state officers.

Non-Union Men at Work.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 10.—Fifty more non-union workmen were taken to the Winnipeg shops of the Canadian Pacific railway and put to work. The company perfected arrangements for housing and feeding 1,000 men in the yards. A special policeman on duty at the Winnipeg yards was brutally assaulted by an unknown man with a cord wood stick. A number of Winnipeg strikers have been rebuked by their executive officers for publicly jibing at workmen who refused to join in the strike.

Receiver Appointed.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 10.—Incident to the reorganization of the Pittsburgh-Washburn Flour Milling company the stockholders petitioned the Federal district court for the appointment of a receiver.

C. S. Pillsbury was appointed. There will be no interruption of business pending reorganization. The capitalization of the company is $5,000,000. There are outstanding $4,150,000 bonds.

Henry Johnson Executed.

Memphis, Aug. 8.—Henry Johnson a negro, was executed in the county jail. Johnson was hanged for criminally assaulting Ida May Broadway daughter of a local dairyman. The girl was not quite four years of age when the assault was committed.

Tabulating Ginners' Reports.

Austin, Aug. 8.—The state department of agriculture is tabulating cotton ginners' reports on number of bales ginned. Reports have been received from 500 ginners.

WOODSON AT CHICAGO.

Mack and Bryan to Hold an Important Conference.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—An important conference having to do with the adoption of the general outline of the campaign will be held Tuesday between Bryan and Chairman Mack at Lincoln.

Tentative plans for the campaign will be presented to Mr. Bryan.

Urey Woodson, secretary of the Democratic national committee, has arrived from his Kentucky home. Treasurer Haskell is also here.

UREY WOODSON.

Chairman Mack said that he would make further efforts to obtain a reconsideration of the order of the Western Passenger association declining to give reduced rates to the Bryan notification ceremonies.

ELEGANT TERMINAL.

It Will Be One of the Finest Ever Constituted.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—The Chicago and Northwestern railway announced that its engineer and architects have completed the plans for its new Madison street passenger terminal, which will cost, when completed in the neighborhood of $20,000,000 and which will include facilities for handling over a quarter of a million passengers every twenty-four hours.

This station will surpass in point of ground covered and length of track age every railroad terminal in the United States it is said except the South station in Boston.

The new terminal will occupy practically four entire city blocks bounded by Madison street on the south, Kenzie street on the north, Clinton on the west and Canal street on the west, passing out over Washington and Randolph streets by means of brilliantly lighted subways.

The structure will be of gray granite, of classic design, the essential feature of which is the great colonnaded entrance or portico of lofty proportions that will tower to a height of 120 feet above Madison street.

Before the imposing front will be a broad pavement or esplanade from which will rise the granite columns that guard the inner vestibule.

The esplanade will be lighted by monumental bronze lamp stands and four big clock dials, each 12 feet in diameter will look down from the granite walls.

There will be six mother public entrances to the building and the stairways will be so ample that if placed side by side they would form steps 100 feet broad.

The site is now being rapidly cleared and the workmen soon will begin to sink the great caissons on which the building is to rest, reaching 106 feet down to bed rock.

The Northwestern officials believe they will have the new terminal ready for occupancy by Jan. 1, 1910.

MALCOLM CARNES DEAD.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning in Denver, Colo., his painful illness of several weeks, preceded by a gradual decline in health for some time apparent was brought to a sad close, and the spirit of Malcolm Carnes, representative citizen, high degree Mason and senior member of the firm of Carnes & Wallace, was ushered into the presence of his Maker. Malcolm Carnes died as he lived—at peace with his fellow man and submissive to the will of Him who doeth all things for the best.

A message received shortly after noon announcing the sad news was the first intimation of any serious development in the condition of Mr. Carnes and proved a shock to relatives and friends alike. He visited Marlin nine weeks ago in the hopes of recuperating his delicate health and after remaining there a few weeks returned to Bryan without any improvement being indicated. His illness was pronounced nervous prostration and upon the advice of physicians he left for Denver, Colo., being joined en route by his brother-in-law, Nat G. Turney of Dallas, who remained with him to the end. Serious complications developed and his demise came without warning.

The remains were shipped from Denver last night at ten o'clock and will reach here tomorrow afternoon over the Central.

Malcolm Carnes was a man who was more than liked and admired; he was held in that strong feeling of love and affection which so rarely characterizes the acquaintance and association of a man with men, and through his death the sharp and burning shaft of sorrow is sunk deep into the hearts of many, which not even the passage of time will entirely assuage and heal. The anguish of his devoted wife, parents, and other loved ones will be keen and poignant; the sorrow of his co-workers will be deep, crushing, and lasting, and the feeling of sincere and sorrowful regret of those with whom he had the slightest acquaintance will be universal. But to all there will be the consoling knowledge that his life was marked with the purity, uprightness, kindness and devotion to his fellow man and to his Christian duties that will meet with the just reward of Him who judges all men rightly.

Deceased was 38 years, four months and thirteen days of age and had resided in Bryan from the time since attaining his majority by one year. During this period he had been actively and prominently connected with the management of the Bryan Eagle and displayed an interest in the advancement of the welfare of his adopted home town to a most commendable extent. He was prominently identified, aside from the success he attained in his business, with various projects for the upbuilding of Bryan and took an extraordinary interest in all matters of civic improvement, being at the time of his death secretary of the Bryan Business League. Mr.

"STRAY TOPICS FROM LIT-TLE OLD NEW YORK."

New York, Aug. 8.—The man or woman who spends the summer months in Manhattan is, as a rule, quite as enthusiastic over Gotham as a summer resort as he is to proclaim it an ideal winter home. This is not due either to the fact that there is so much in or near the city in the form of amusement parks and cool roof gardens, but rather because the climate itself is as cool as at many a summer resort, and in addition there is the comfort of the home surroundings. It is to be remembered, however, that Manhattan is an island, swept by cool sea breezes, and while there are comparatively few shade-trees the tall buildings serve the same purpose. During the recent hot spell the people in the city found it quite as comfortable, except in the overcrowded tenement districts, as did the people who lived in the suburbs. Although thousands of New Yorkers hurry away from the city on the first warm day in June and do not return until September, still there are many people who come to New York for the summer months and take apartments vacated by those who do not believe the city tolerable during July and August. Among these are a great many Southerners who find New York an ideal spot in which to spend their summer vacations.

In one of the old and historic sections of New York, known as Greenwich Village, there is a place where they check babies. They don't check them in exactly the same manner as they do umbrellas, but it is possible for wifeless men and working mothers to leave their little one here all day and be sure of getting their own child when they return for it at night. To be sure the place is only a day nursery, but it is run on the plan of an up-to-date hospital and the children get the very best of care. The children are carefully fed according to formulas issued by the board of health. Everything in the way of amusement is provided for the little tots, but they are made to take their naps regularly, and of course have to be bathed and fed on scheduled time. It is not an uncommon sight to see a father taking his motherless children to the nursery on his way to work, where he leaves them for the entire day. In addition to caring for the children the mothers are instructed in the proper ways to care for their little ones at home.

One of the places that the out-of-town sightseer inevitably visits is the Aquarium, which is situated on the lower end of Manhattan Island. It is visited by all classes and by all races. It is doubtful if any place attracts such a mixture of races as does the Aquarium. It is the first place that the immigrant visits, for it is free and near the foreign hotels and boarding places. It is not uncommon to have twenty thousand visitors there in a day. The building in which the Aquarium is located is historically interesting, too, because it was formerly a theater where Jenny Lind made her first appearance.

New York is said to be rebuilt every forty years. The ceaseless tearing down and building up leave scarcely a street undisturbed. Probably in no city in the world are great and massive buildings or points of rare historic interest more readily sacrificed. The "house-wrecker" flourishes in New York, for an army of men are constantly employed to tear down what another generation has built up. The storage yards of the oldest firms of house-wreckers are veritable museums. There may be seen still in the debris sign boards and different specimens of architectural ornamentation that were familiar sights along Broadway fifty years ago. Historic relics by the ton, which recall very vividly the architectural glory of the old city, are piled about on every hand. For example, one heap of marble, much discolored, contains all that is left of the famous Stewart mansion, once the pride of the city. The iron balcony, on which Washington once stood to address the crowds in Bowling Green is to be found in the rubbish, as are scores of other interesting relics.

The prosperous brokers in Wall street take things very easily during the summer months and make it possible for the man who really works to wish that he had their job for a vacation. If the variations in the stock market are not too troublesome the successful broker generally leaves his office early on Friday and departs for his country home for the weekend. He either returns leisurely some time during the day on Monday or on Tuesday morning. He then has about three days for work before he can take another vacation. But for the few days that he works, the hours of ten to three are not a great tax on his strength, and he generally plans to be as comfortable as possible. In the first place, it is the style with brokers and all their employees to wear light pongee coats. The broker thus arrayed generally takes his seat in front of the ticker with an electric fan over his head. Many of the brokers do not leave their offices at all during the day, but have a barber come in to shave them, and at noon time have their lunches brought in. At three o'clock a big touring car draws up before their offices and whisks them off to some one of the fashionable uptown clubs, where they play bridge and drink some cool drinks until it is time to dress for some dinner engagement.

When the cotton crop is dumped on the market all in a lump, it causes the business of the whole year into a few weeks. The gins are rushed, the merchants have to employ extra help and the railroads can't furnish cars enough to move it. After the rush is over, the gins stand idle, with the machinery rusting; the merchants' clerks lounge on the counter or loiter on the sidewalks, and the railroad cars stand empty on the sidetracks. Isn't it better for everybody to sell the cotton along through the year as it is needed?

Dr. Charlton says the usual Bryan delegation to the reunion did not show up. The reunion was a success, however, Thursday being the greatest day.

Mrs. L. M. Hewitt and daughter, Miss Hazel, arrived home last night from Era, Penn., where they had visited for two months past. At the grand central station in St. Louis Mrs. Hewitt was presumably the victim of a sneak thief, her chatelaine containing railroad transportation and Pullman tickets being removed from her side on the seat while she dozed. Fortunately nothing of high value was contained in the receptacle and she was subjected to no inconvenience whatever.

We need them—but we are sadly lacking in commercial enterprises that have large pay rolls. Those that are here should be encouraged and others induced to come to Bryan.

SMITH-MARRETT NUPTIALS.

Miss Bessie Verna Marrett and Mr. Howard Olin Smith were quietly married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. M. Bullock in this city, that minister officiating.

The event was extremely quiet, there being no guests present, and immediately after the ceremony the couple were driven in a carriage to the Central depot, where they boarded the 3:40 train for Galveston, there to remain until Tuesday. They will make their home in Bryan.

The bride is the daughter of Prof. E. E. Marrett of Bryan and a young lady of many admirable traits of character and disposition. She was reared in this city and is universally popular with everyone. Mr. Smith is from Cameron, but has been located in Bryan for something like two years, and in that time his gentlemanly bearing and pleasant affable manners have won him numerous friends and the respect of all who know him.

His Own Plans Frustrated, Deputy Sheriff Conlee Accomplishes Other Work.

Disappointed in his own quest of a fugitive from justice Deputy Sheriff Conlee a few days ago placed under arrest at Wichita, Kan., C. E. Evans, a negro badly wanted at Caldwell on a charge of assault to murder. The prisoner is now in the custody of the Wichita authorities and officers of Purlson county are arranging to make requisition on the governor for Evans.

Officer Conlee went to Wichita a week ago on information received by the sheriff's department to the effect that a criminal wanted in Brazos county for a serious offense might be located there, and although the trail was warm for a time and the officer got in close proximity to his quarry, the search resulted in failure. However, Mr. Conlee believes that he has means at hand which will result in the fugitive's apprehension, and he confidently expects developments before long.

FIRST DAY AT EDGE'S

A packed house and a bevy of salesmen doing their utmost to wait on enthusiastic patrons, as it were, constituted the most salient features of the clearance sale of Eugene Edge "on the corner" yesterday. That the bargain offered and the significance of the sale excited the interest of the public far beyond the expectations of Mr. Edge is indicated by the fact that notwithstanding his preparation for the occasion difficulty was experienced in attending to the wants of customers. While many choice bargains were secured by visitors to the store yesterday, Mr. Edge states that every one can probably be duplicated at any time throughout the sale as his stock is extraordinarily heavy, but suggests that, in view of the fact that such exceptional interest has developed, those desiring a particular article or choice of a lot, call as early as possible.

In the presence of immediate relatives and a small number of invited guests Mr. Dave Monday and Miss Doeny Berger were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last night at 9 o'clock at the home of Rev. Hamilton, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The young people were the recipients of numerous handsome and useful presents and congratulations were showered upon them on every hand.

The bride is a young lady well known, admired and esteemed by the people of Bryan for her pleasant and lovable qualities, and the groom is a popular young mechanic of the city, the senior member of the firm of Monday & Moehlman, blacksmiths. The couple will reside in Bryan.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD

The International Typographical Union will hold its convention in Boston next week.

The Photo Engravers' Union of North America has recently adopted a union label.

The International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen will meet in convention at Detroit next week.

The carmen of Wheeling, W. Va., have received an increase in wages of one-half and one cent on the hour.

In connection with the effort to reduce the number of accidents in mines, for which money was appropriated by congress, plans have been made by Secretary of the Interior Garfield to open in Pittsburgh, Pa., the first experimental station.

Out of 7,248 cases settled by voluntary conciliation and arbitration boards in Great Britain during the past ten years only 42, or about one per cent, were preceded by stoppage of work by strikes, and disturbances were extremely rare.

The Soo Railroad has placed an order with the Minnesota state free employment bureau for 7,000 men. They are wanted as harvest hands in Minnesota and North Dakota, and the wages offered run from $2 to $4 a day with board. Under the order several hundred men have already been placed.

As an expression of appreciation for their faithful service and courtesy to the traveling public, checks amounting to a total of $175,000 were mailed to 1,153 conductors and 2,617 porters by the Pullman company. In each case the check was equivalent to one month's pay, an average of $46.40.

Miss Hazel MacDonald of Chicago, who some time ago advocated the establishment of a home for aged and indigent postoffice clerks, has been elected a delegate to the convention of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, which will open at Louisville, Ky., on September 7. She will have an opportunity to submit her plan to the convention.

AUCKLAND AWAITS FLEET.

American Fleet Due to Reach This Port Tomorrow.
Auckland, N. Z., Aug. 7.—The 175,000 inhabitants of the provincial district of Auckland are on the tip-toe of expectation in anticipation of the arrival of the fleet of American battle ships. Auckland is the first port in the New Dominion at which the fleet will touch after an unbroken stretch of 3580 miles from Honolulu. The reception of the battleships will provide a notable spectacle, and one to which the people of New Zealand have been looking forward with keen interest for weeks past.
The fleet is due to reach port Sunday, but the official landing will not be made until the following day, according to the program as arranged. The landing will be an imposing affair, the visitors marching in procession to the government house under triumphal arches and past beautiful ly decorated buildings. The New Zealand volunteers will act as escort, and the federal officials, the mayors and municipal authorities of the chief cities of New Zealand will form the reception party, which will be headed by the governor-general, Lord Plunket.
A municipal welcome will be given Tuesday and will include a reception by the mayor of Auckland. In the evening there will be a state ball at government house, the men being entertained in various halls.
Bryan League Ticket.
Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—The Bryan league of Pennsylvania has decided to put an independent ticket in the field until the name of Bryan for the coming presidential election and to perfect a state organization with a committeeman and complete ticket in every county.
More than 100 Democrats and followers of National Committeeman Kerr attended a meeting which was presided over by William E. Wallace of Clearfield, who elected chairman of the Bryan league to succeed Kerr.
White Accepts.
Austin, Aug. 8.—C. B. White, tax assessor of Fannin county, has accepted the position of chief clerk in the purchasing agent's department. He will assume his new duties Oct. 1.

Rates Not to Be Reduced.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was notified that no reduced railroad rates will be put into effect for the Bryan notification meeting at Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 12. The communication from Eben McLeod, chairman of the Western Passenger association, and was in reply to a letter sent to that official by Mr. Mack earlier in the day, and calling attention to the fact that reduced fares had been granted on the occasion of the Taft notification, whereas no concessions had been made for the Lincoln gathering. The correspondence was interspersed by several telephonic conversations between Mr. Mack and Mr. McLeod, the latter explaining the action of the railroads by referring to the fact that no reduced rates had been put into effect for any events in Nebraska since the passage of the 2-cent fare law in that state. He also emphasized the fact that the reduced rates to Cincinnati were offered by the Central Passenger association.
"The action of the railroads is simply a discrimination against the Democratic party," said Mr. Mack. "They state that there is a 2-cent law in Nebraska which will not permit them to give a reduced rate to Lincoln. But I desire to call their attention to the fact that there is also a 2-cent rate law in Ohio, which did not prevent the granting of a reduced rate to the Taft meeting at Cincinnati. Besides, as I understand it, many of the railroads which compose the Central Passenger association are also members of the Western association."

"Mother" Stewart No More.
Springfield, O., Aug. 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, the noted temperance advocate and known all over the country as "Mother" Stewart, is dead at her home at Hicksville, aged ninety-two years. She devoted her life to the temperance cause. In 1876 she visited England and organized the first Woman's Christian Temperance union in that country. Following the civil war she lectured extensively in the southern states in behalf of the war sufferers.

Five Hundred Dollars Limit.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Not more than $500 will be spent by local committee Aug. 12, when Bryan is formally notified of his nomination. Mayor Brown, as chairman of the committee, raised that amount, and expenses will be kept within that limit.
The parade of Aug. 12 will consist of two bands, a platoon of police and company of mounted Democrats as escort for Messrs. Bryan and Kern and the notification committee. There will be no marching clubs in the parade.

Many Seek Work.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—The gates of the Canadian railroad shops were besieged by a mob of workmen clamoring to take the places of the striking mechanics. The crowd at one time was estimated to the number of 2,000, but most of them were unskilled laborers. The company's officials, while refusing to make a formal statement, say that 600 of the 2,000 places vacated by the strikers have been filled. They say the backbone of the strike is broken. The union officials continue hopeful.

To Be Opened Sept. 15.

Fort Worth, Aug. 8.—It is announced by railroad officials here that the new line from Kansas City to Fort Worth will be opened Sept. 15, when trains will be run from the north over the Orient tracks to Chillicothe, Tex., thence via Denver to Fort Worth. It is added the Orient will put its line in operation to Sweetwater by Oct. 15 and to San Angelo by Jan. 1.

Costly Jar of the Subway.

The tuppenny tube, London's subway, once set fire to a house in a manner so extraordinary as to merit attention. In a mansion beneath which runs the subterranean railway one of the bedroom fireplaces was fitted with a blower—a sheet of iron inside the grate which can be raised or lowered to regulate the draft. The blower rested on a series of iron notches. One afternoon a servant kindled a fire in the grate and when it was well alight raised the blower, so that the coal would burn hotly, and so left it while she went downstairs. Presently, deep in the clay beneath the foundations of the house, a train rushed along. The vibrations from its passing were sufficient to jar the blower from the notches on which the servant had left it. It dropped down. The draft increased; the fire raged madly. The flames were enough to set the chimney on fire, burning soot set the water tank on the roof alight, and there resulted a considerable conflagration.—Pittsburg Post.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

George Marshall, a philanthropist who always kept a sharp lookout never to be wasteful, decided to go for a week's camping, taking as his guests some ragged street urchins. One morning he used the bits of meat left from the evening before and made hash for breakfast. There was some left over, which he concluded to reheat and serve again at noon.
"Johnnie, will you have some hash?" he asked one lad.
"Bet your life," replied the lad, who was constitutionally hungry.
"Peter, pass your plate for some hash"—to another freckled nosed lad.
"Not if I know it," was the unexpected reply.
"I thought you liked hash from the way you ate it this morning," replied Mr. Marshall.
"I did like it for breakfast," said the lad, "but none of yer review of reviews for me for dinner."—Lippincott's Magazine.

There is a saying that people are as "homely as a mud fence." Did any one ever see a mud fence or know if there is such a thing?—Athenian Globe.
